

Nature Trivia

BINGO

Test your Nature Knowledge. See how many you can get in a row, or fill up the whole card! (Answer key on the following page)

What do you call the electric charge that is created by clouds?

What is the name of the group of animals that live in water and on land?

What is it called when an animal is active at night, but sleeps during the day?

What is the name for the part of a plant that goes into the ground?

What is the sticky, liquid that is inside trees? (hint: we use it to make syrup!)

What is the name for a female deer?

What are clouds made of?

What kind of tree produces beans that we can use to make chocolate?

How many legs do all insects have?

What is the highest mountain in the world?

What is it called when two organisms have a mutually, beneficial relationship?

What do you call an animal that hunts other, smaller organisms for food?

How many PAIRS of wings do bees have? (1 pair = 2 wings)

What do you call an extended period of time that is dry and without rain?

What is the process called that plants use to make their own food?

What do you call someone who studies weather?

What do you call the hard outer layer, that protects the body of most insects?

What is the process called when a caterpillar turns into a butterfly?

What is the first stage of all plants' life cycles?

What is the name for when water falls from the sky? (snow, rain or hail)

What is the name for an animal that eats only plants?

What is the name for the group of organisms that spreads pollen from one flower to another?

True or False: There is no such thing as a poisonous snake.

What is the name for the group of organisms that decomposes organic matter?

What do fish use to breathe underwater?

Nature Trivia BINGO

Answer Key - How many did you get?
Did you learn something new?

Lightning

Amphibians

Nocturnal

Roots

Sap

Doe

Water Vapor

Cocoa Tree

6

Mount Everest

Mutualism or symbiosis

Predator

2 pairs = 4 total
wings

Drought

Photosynthesis

Meteorologist

Exoskeleton

Metamorphosis

Seed

Precipitation

Herbivore

Pollinators

True!
(Some) Snakes are venomous, but none
are poisonous,
because they inject
their toxins into their target.

Decomposers

Gills (fish do not have lungs)